

Details regarding Participants' stay in Dion

The modern city of Dion is located just near the remnants of the ancient city, approximately 20km from Katerini and 70 km from Thessaloniki. It is situated on the foot of Mount Olympus and that is why it is rich in biota.

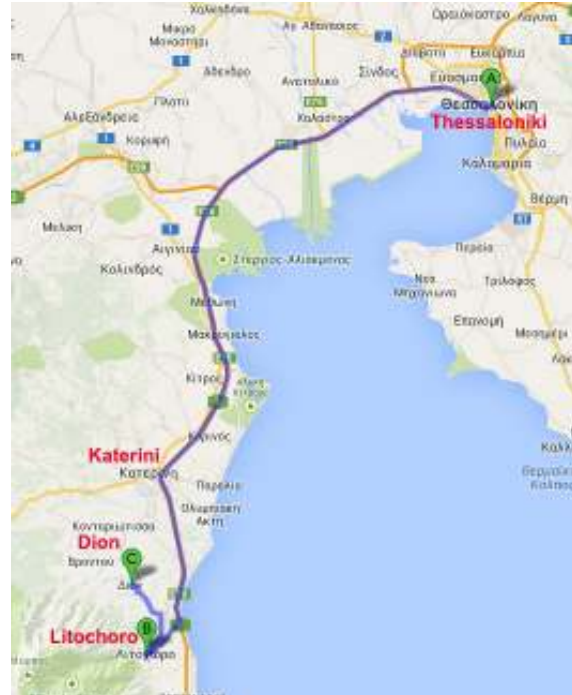

The city has about 1000 inhabitants and is touristically explored, due to the significant archaeological site, its vicinity to Mount Olympus and the Olympus Festival, organized every summer in the area.

For more info you can visit the site:

<http://www.dion-olympos.gr/en/en.home>

<http://www.festivalolympou.gr/index-en.php>

<http://www.olympusfd.gr/us/default.asp>

In Dion among others there is:

- The archaeological site, where all practical and in situ work will be realized (500m from the city center)
- The Archaeological Laboratory, where all lectures, as well individual work will be realized
- The University Hostel, where most of Participants will be hosted
- The Center of mosaics, which will host exhibitions on the frame of Olympus festival
- The Archaeological museum
- Restaurants, where breakfast and lunch will be served

According to MARE.14 Program, all lectures and insitu applications will be realized in Dion, while the afternoon laboratory work will be realized in Thessaloniki, in the Laboratory of Building Materials, Dept. of Civil Engineering, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki.

All round trips from Dion to Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, will be made with a bus rent by MARE.14.

According to the schedule:

- Breakfast will be served at a Dion Restaurant at 7:30-8:30
- Lunch will be served at a Dion Restaurant at 12:30-14:00

MARE.14

Materials and Techniques for the Restoration of Monuments

Durability, Sustainability and Economy issues in Retrofitting Heritage Structures

6-20 July 2014